Athens Says the Lord Nelson Stranded in Dardanelles and Was Then Hemmed to Mines by Turk Guns

Russians Win Important Victory Over Austrians in Beskids Mountains—This Is Ad

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 8.—Loss of another member of the allied fleet attacking the Dardanelles is reported from Athens by way of Berlin. The British battleship Lord Nelson is said to have been stranded in the straits and then destroyed by the Turkish forts.

A German submarine sank the British steamer Olivefin off the Isle of Wight yesterday. The Russian vessel whose sinking was made known last night was identified today as the bark Irene. Both crews escaped.

Notwithstanding official denials, it is

Serbian losses in the border fighting with Bulgarian irregulars are placed at 1,500.

Beyond the bare admission that the Austrian forces in the Beskide have been compelled to retreat, Vienna has given no indication of the status of affairs along that section of the Hungarian frontier. There is as yet no indication whether Hungary is threatened seriously with invasion. The Russian war office now certainly sees a great success in the Beskide, but many definite advantages have been gained over the Germans in northern Poland.

BERLIN, April 5.—(By Wireless.)
An Over-Sea agency dispatch from Athens says the British battleship Lord Nelson, stranded inside the Dardanelles straits, has been destroyed by Turkish shore guns.

A war council held by the British and French admirals, the Athens dispatch continues, decided to postpone the attempts to force the Dardanelles on account of the insufficient strength of the landing expedition.

The Lord Nelson was 410 feet long

The Over-Seas also gave out the following:

"Constantinople dispatches say the situation has been no change in the Dardanelles situation."

"The Russian fleet, after its operations before the Bosphorus undertook, March 30, a further attack on Ereğli, a Black Sea port in Asia Minor. A total of 23 ships were fired. Nine barges in the port were sunk and four caissons on shore were damaged. There were no casualties. Ties and coal is coming from Ereğli as usual. A Russian aviator was driven

"An article appearing in the Tanin of Constantinople expresses the idea that inasmuch as the English will not be able to reach Constantinople before the Russians get there, the former intend to occupy the islands at the entrance to the Dardanelles in positions from which it would be possible to checkmate Russia in the Bosphorus."

Italy Believes Rumor That Turkey Seeks Separate Peace

(By Associated Press.)

ROME, April 26.—Via Paris, April 26.—In spite of various official denials from the belligerent nations that preliminary steps have been taken to conclude peace, especially by Austria and Turkey without consulting Germany, the report that Djavid Pasha, Turkish minister of finance, who now is in Switzerland, is on a peace mission finds credence here.

It is pointed out that Djavid Pasha

The Italian Embassy in Bern, Switzerland, in a letter of 10 October 1941, concluded an Italian-Turkish peace and that he conducted his preliminary negotiations by roundabout methods through neutral diplomats. While he has denied emphatically that he is a present engaged in a similar mission, it is considered here that this denial should not be taken too seriously because he scarcely could admit at this time that he overestimated the chance of cessation of hostilities. Similar denials are made by him when he first undertook the task of bringing about an agreement between Italy and Turkey.

AUDITORIUM'S LIGHTS BEING CHANGED FOR OPERA

Carson's artistic temperament suffered a severe shock last year because the lights over the auditorium could not be turned off and he was forced to play a dark scene in the light.

The city and the Music Festival association are combining forces this year to start against any such mishap. The lights in the auditorium are being changed, under the supervision of City Electrician R. C. Turner, to an improved type of lights, which, combined in three clusters, will have 15,000 candle power. The city and the Music Festival association share the expense.

MOTORCYCLISTS MAKE RUN FROM BIRMINGHAM

First Six Riders to Reach Atlanta Were on Harley-Davidsons

Leaving Birmingham at 5 o'clock Sunday morning, twenty-two of the twenty-four motorcycle riders in the endurance run to Atlanta checked in at the Grady monument on schedule time and at 5 o'clock Monday morning started on the return ride.

The first six riders to reach the monument were mounted on Harley-Davidson and two more put in appearance soon after. Six of the machines were 1915 models, two of them 1914 models. Their good time excited considerable comment from the hundreds who saw them arrive.

The Harley-Davidson riders did not have to touch their machines from the time they left Birmingham until they reached Atlanta, save to renew a small amount of oil and gas. Nor had they been touched when the riders departed again Monday, confident of reaching Birmingham on time and winning the trophies.

Experts say the time of the run is a splendid testimonial of the development of motorcycle manufacturers to the point of perfection in building the "puttering" two-wheelers.

COMMITTEE ACCEPTS BID OF 37.9 OR CURBSTONES

The street committee of council today morning voted to accept the bid of $17.9 cents a foot for granite curbing submitted by the Arabia Mountain Granite company.

Recently the aldermanic board turned down the bid of $17.9 cents of the Arabia Mountain Granite company, which had been accepted by the street committee.

When new bids were taken, new specifications were made by the construction department and according to members of the street committee the new specifications, upon which the aldermanic board had voted, were accepted Monday. The street committee and the city engineer had been working on the new specifications. About ten miles of curbing will be used by the city.

DOG WRECKS AUTO. PASSENGERS UNHURT

A yellow dog ran into the Bull Street road Sunday afternoon, a speeding automobile hit the animal, skidded to the curb, turned over twice and smashed into the bank again, a total wreck.

The three passengers, Joe DeGracia, driving; Everett Wright, of the Wright Shaving company, and John McKee, picked themselves up from the ground some distance away, frightened and shaken. Had they been caught under the car, there might have been a tragedy, as it was no one was hurt beyond a few bruises.

The automobile was demolished. The yellow dog was dead.

MINISTERS OF ATLANTA COMMEND DR. CHAPMAN

Resolutions Also Condemn the Modern Dance, Locker Clubs and Gambling

Resolutions commending Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, his teachings, and all his doctrines, and the work of the Chapman-Alexander revival, recently closed in Atlanta, and condemning all forms of dissipation, the modern dance, locker clubs, gambling, and the like, were passed by the regular monthly meeting of the Evangelical Ministers' association of Atlanta, in session Monday morning.

The Evangelical Ministers' association also endorsed and fully approved the efforts of the Atlanta chapter of the Christian Endeavor society, and made it a city beautiful.

The personal evangelistic campaign which the ministers of the city had pledged should follow the revival, was launched. Each denomination present pledged to work toward a certain goal in number of members secured into the church from now until June 1.

The automobile was demolished. The yellow dog was dead.

DEAN ATKINSON SILENT ON DR. WHITE'S ATTACK

Dr. John R. Atkinson, dean of St. Philip's cathedral, had nothing to say Monday in reply to the attack on dancing delivered Sunday night by Dr. John L. White, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle.

Some time ago Dr. Atkinson inaugurated a movement to establish a public dance hall in Atlanta, the same to be conducted under the direction and control of the municipal government and under the chaperonage of fathers and mothers of the community.

Dr. White in his sermon at the Tabernacle Sunday night made a severe attack on dancing in general and on these of the St. Philip's cathedral.

Atkinson's plan in particular. He declared the Baptists, Methodists and Presbyterians of Atlanta do not want a public dance hall, and that the city government shall never place the stamp of its approval on such an institution.

FEDERAL AID IN HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION DEMAND

Powerful Sentiment for Government Action Developed by Chattanooga Meeting

Federal aid for highway construction was a note sounded with ringing emphasis by the great Dixie highway conference at Chattanooga Saturday, and if the sentiment voiced by the states represented at that conference in other states, it will not be long before the national government, in response to an imperative public demand, will undertake the building and maintenance of a far-flung system of roads in the same way it has for years improved the rivers and harbors of the various states.

The conference was a wonderful demonstration of the interest people everywhere are taking in good roads. Expecting about 2,000 delegates, the promulgation of the conference was Saturday morning to find 5,000 enthusiastic good roads advocates camped in Chattanooga. They had come all the way from Chicago on the north to Miami on the south, and their spirit of intense interest coupled with the determined rivalry of the various constituent delegations furnished an abundant guarantee of the success of the highway project.

Conspicuous among them was Atlanta's delegation more than 100 strong representing the Fulton county government, the Atlanta city government, and all of the civic bodies of the metropolis. The Atlanta delegation went to the conference prepared to offer whatever influences would be necessary to bring the highway through this city. They found upon arrival in Chattanooga that Atlanta was a fixed point on the route, that every survey made by the state proposed came to a focus upon the Atlanta point, and that no other city was competing Atlanta's claim in the highway.

ATLANTIANS APPLAUDED

Consequently the members of the Atlanta delegation were on easy street so far as a contest was concerned. They had nothing to do but advertise their city in the customary style with banners, folders, songs and Atlanta flags and Atlanta cheerleaders. They had the pick position in the parade Saturday morning and were enthusiastically applauded all along the line of march. At the auditorium where the highway was held they were promptly took charge of the informal preliminaries before they marched into the hall and made a big hit with their songs and good music.

The fixed points on the Dixie highway are, e. g., the points over which there are no contests are as follows: First, Chicago, which is the beginning point; then, following south, Indianapolis, Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon and Jacksonville; and, last, Miami, which is the terminus of the highway.

Between these points various routes have been surveyed at the instance of the promoters of the Dixie highway project.

From Chicago to Indianapolis the survey takes one route and this route is not contested.

From Indianapolis a route has been surveyed by way of Cincinnati and Lexington, Ky., to Chattanooga, and another route has been surveyed by way of Louisville, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., to Chattanooga.

The cities of Cincinnati and Lexington, supported by towns along their route, are making a very strong bid for the highway to come their way, and they are being opposed by the cities of Louisville, and Nashville, who have the support of towns along their route and which are bidding against Cincinnati and Lexington.

ROME'S SURVEYED.

From Chattanooga to Atlanta a route has been surveyed by way of Rome and another route has been surveyed by way of Dalton straight down the Western and Atlantic railroad. The Rome route goes through Chattanooga, Dalton and down the line of the Central of Georgia railway through a lovely valley, reaching Lafayette, Summerville, Rome and then east to the Western and Atlantic railroad at Kingston, from which point it follows the alternate route into Atlanta. The Dalton route, which has been named the battlefield route, follows the general line of the line of Sherman's army as it fought down the Western and Atlantic railroad (opposed by Johnston's army).

The city of Rome is greatly enthused over the highway and sent to the Chattanooga conference a delegation of more than 200 citizens headed by Judge Rose Wright.

Equally enthused is the city of Dalton, which also sent to the conference a strong delegation which vied with Rome in extolling the attractions of the battlefield route.

From Atlanta to Jacksonville three routes are proposed. One goes to Americus and Albany along the round-the-state highway established by the Atlanta Constitution. Another goes along the national highway established by The Atlanta Journal and made famous by the last glider tour. The third route lies further east, by way of Hawkinsville, Fitzgerald, Waycross, and Folkston.

Between these three proposed routes there is the keenest kind of rivalry. The counties along each of them already have many good roads and are prepared to build more, and when the board named by the governors of the states along the highway comes to locate the highway south of Atlanta to the Florida line, they will be in no doubt as to a good road over any route they select.

Savannah, which was not included in any of the surveys, showed her interest in the highway by sending a delegation to Chattanooga headed by General P. W. Hieldrin, a distinguished Savannah lawyer, who is president of the American Bar association. Savannah will urge her many beautiful and historic points of interest, her magnificent roads through Chatham county and her hotel facilities and all-round accommodations for the tourist, as reasons why the highway should be turned out of its course to take her in.

The location of the route is to be determined by a board of four representatives of two directors appointed by the governor of each of the seven states traversed by the highway, these seven states being Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and Florida.

Governor Slaton, immediately after the conference agreed upon this plan, announced his appointment of Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, and W. T. Anderson, editor of the Macon Telegraph, to represent Georgia on the board. The other governors will announce their appointees later, and the board will meet at its earliest convenience to go over all the data concerning various proposed routes and from this data make selection.

Every man should supply his shirt wants for the entire summer at these remarkably low prices.

REPORT ON COASTAL PLAIN OF GEORGIA

State Geologist McCallie Calls Attention to Result of Investigations

Dr. S. W. McCallie, state geologist, has issued a statement calling attention to a report just published by the United States geological survey on "The Ground Waters of the Georgia Coastal Plain."

In 1908, the geological survey of Georgia, in co-operation with the United States geological survey, began the investigation of the coastal plain of Georgia with the understanding that the results of the work were to be published in two separate reports—one report, known as the geology of the coastal plain of Georgia, to be published by the state geological survey, and the other, known as the ground waters of the coastal plain of Georgia, to be published by the federal survey. The report on the geology of the coastal plain was issued by the state geological survey in June, 1911, and the report on the ground waters of the coastal plain has just been issued by the U. S. geological survey. The nature and scope of this report is described in a press bulletin, issued by the department of the interior, United States geological survey.

An extract from this bulletin follows: Two profile sections show the geological structure of the coastal plain to be monoclinical, the general dip of the formation being from the landward toward the southward and southward toward the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean. The conditions are therefore favorable for the production of artesian water.

One part of the report treats of the chemical character of the waters. This chapter will be of great practical value to the consumers of water, whether it is required for manufacturing, domestic or domestic use. Some of the subjects treated are boiler supplies, the effect of domestic water on domestic supplies, and methods of purifying and softening water.

The report will be useful, not only to the present inhabitants of the Georgia coastal plain, but also to persons who contemplate moving to that region for the purpose of establishing industrial plants or engaging in agriculture. A copy may be obtained free on application to the director of the geological survey, Washington, D. C.

COURT ORDERS T. & M. LOCKER CLUB CLOSED

Receiver Is Told Club Cannot Be Kept Open Pending Court Decision

Judge Ellis, of the superior court, Monday ordered the Theatrical and Mechanical club, 31 1-2 Marietta street, closed.

T. Ripley, receiver appointed by Judge Bull under the petition of the Atlanta Theatrical and Mechanical club, which was a partner of John M. McMillan in the operation of the club, and that McMillan refused her share of the profits, was ordered by Judge Ellis to "take actual possession of the property and close the place up."

After issuing this order, Judge Ellis told the receiver that if he did not close the place, for him to come back and report to the court and the court would send a deputy sheriff to close the club.

T. Ripley, when asked, said he took charge and closed the place up soon after he left court armed with Judge Ellis' order.

J. L. Foster, of Foster & Allen, attorneys for Mrs. Taberni, went before Judge Ellis Monday and told the judge that the club was still being operated as a locker club under Wednesday's order of the court appointing Ripley receiver, and asked Judge Ellis to collapse this order so that the club could be closed.

The case will be heard before Judge Ellis in a few days, when it will be decided whether or not the club remains open or closed.

HERE IS PROOF THAT RESINOL STOPS ITCHING

The best evidence of what the Resinol treatment will do for YOUR tortured skin is what it has done for others. Here is a man whose WITCHY BOY was covered with tormenting eczema. When He says that Resinol stops itching immediately, he knows what he is talking about. Just read his simple, straightforward letter.

"My entire body, even my eyelids, was completely covered with itching. The burning and itching were something terrible, and I COULD NOT SLEEP nor rest. I think I had one of the worst cases of eczema a human being ever had."

"I used eight different kinds of remedies without success. I then tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and it stopped the itching IMMEDIATELY. I immediately noticed a change for the better. Now I am entirely cured."—(Signed) Edward F. McCullough, 249 River Street, Boston, Mass., Aug. 11, 1914.

Now ask yourself this question: "If Resinol could heal THIS man's skin, will it not also heal mine? You can see Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap at ANY drug store, or for free literature, to Dept. 16-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. (Adv.)"

CUYLER'S DIARY OF "LOST LOVE," SAYS WIFE

Answer to Suit Says Cuyler's Love Affairs Were Grounds for Separation

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) NEW YORK, April 5.—(Tribune.)—"Lost love" were said by Telegram-Cruiser Smith Cuyler after his marriage according to the diary filed with the divorce court by Mrs. Cuyler in her grounds of abandonment.

Among other allegations the reply says that Cuyler's continued neglect caused her to become prematurely gray and that, while on a trip abroad with him to Mrs. Constance Brown, of Atlanta.

The alleged tributes to the "lost love" were found, Mrs. Cuyler says, in her husband's diary.

"LIGHT OF LIFE GONE." "This diary so affected me that I became ill," said Mrs. Cuyler, "because of the references to 'lost love' and I was never thereafter deceived by his protestations of love."

Mrs. Cuyler asks that her husband be dismissed because he was a party to the California act of adultery and her divorce. Before they separated the couple lived at 51 East Second street.

The following is an extract from the diary of Mr. Cuyler, referring to his one-time fiancée who married another man, as the Polar star, and who was as fixed for the slightest deviation throughout time or the sweep of ages, to the end of the world.

"I fully realize that I am this writing. When I see the lost, the wanted past ten years, I mourn the loss of a life, a life that was as bright as the sun, and the light of my poor life is gone out forever and ever. So all that is left for me is to watch the miserable game played to its uttermost end."

Cuyler, who is a son of the late Henry Hunt Smith, one of the best known cotton factors in the south, had his name changed to Cuyler by the Georgia legislature. His wife, by whom he has two children, left him in 1912 and established her residence in San Francisco, where she brought suit for a divorce. She got an interlocutory decree in September, 1912, but Cuyler then started proceedings to set aside the divorce and the case dragged on until last month, when she got her final decree and the custody of her children.

In the meantime Cuyler brought a $500,000 alienation suit against his wealthy wife, which is still pending.

Atlantians Revel In Most Glorious Easter in History

It was a glorious Easter day. The sunshine was never more splendid, the skies never spread a sweeter blue, all outdoor pleasures were enjoyed, the gold and rainbow hues, and all Atlanta smiled.

In the churches attendance records were broken. On Peachtree street automobiles lined the curbs for blocks, and by 11 o'clock it was impossible to walk the sidewalks. Easter bibles, Easter eggs, and Easter hats were everywhere. The city was a sea of gold and rainbow hues, and all Atlanta smiled.

Among other allegations the reply says that Cuyler's continued neglect caused her to become prematurely gray and that, while on a trip abroad with him to Mrs. Constance Brown, of Atlanta.

The alleged tributes to the "lost love" were found, Mrs. Cuyler says, in her husband's diary.

"LIGHT OF LIFE GONE." "This diary so affected me that I became ill," said Mrs. Cuyler, "because of the references to 'lost love' and I was never thereafter deceived by his protestations of love."

Mrs. Cuyler asks that her husband be dismissed because he was a party to the California act of adultery and her divorce. Before they separated the couple lived at 51 East Second street.

POLICE BELIEVE NEGROES KILLED CLIFFORD MOORE

Small Boy Has Been Found Who Says He Saw Attack on White Man

That Clifford Moore, the young Atlanta man who was killed last Saturday night and who died early Monday morning at Grady hospital from the blows he received on the head in his fight with the highwaymen, was the victim of negroes, is the belief of the police, following the discovery of a clue Monday which they hope may lead to the arrest of the guilty parties.

By inquiry in the neighborhood of the robbery, which occurred on Auburn street, the police found that a small boy saw the robbery, was frightened, and ran into a nearby house and told the people he saw negroes beating a white man to death. The police are now bending their efforts to locate this boy and get from him, if possible, a description of the negroes.

Until this clue was discovered the police were in the dark as to whether the robbery was committed by negroes or white men, as Moore was uncovered consciousness when found and no recovered consciousness at the hospital.

He is supposed to have had on his person when attacked by the highwaymen a small box containing a sum of $15. It is thought he had taken a pistol, and was looking to defend himself when attacked, which resulted in the blows upon his head. His skull was fractured at two places and he had a severe abrasion on his temple. Grady hospital physicians say the wound is a simple one and is not dangerous.

Moore was twenty-three years old, lived at 114 Irwin street, and was a son of J. W. Moore.

The body of Mr. Moore was removed to St. Patrick's church, and will be taken Monday night to Perry, Ga., for burial. He was the son of J. W. Moore, and by his father, J. W. Moore, and two brothers, Warren Moore and James I. Moore.

THREE FAYETTE FARMERS SENTENCED FOR PEONAGE

Judge Newman Says "Crime Was Undoubtedly a Horrible One"

Remarking that "their crime was undoubtedly a horrible one," Judge W. T. Newman of the United States district court Monday afternoon sentenced Frank, three well-to-do farmers of Fayette county, to a year and a day each, and also a fine of $100 each for conspiracy to violate the peonage laws.

Marion Smith, attorney for the three men, moved to set aside the verdict of the jury returned several days ago on a technical ground, but Judge Newman overruled the motion and passed sentence.

The three farmers were specifically charged with conspiracy in placing John Westmoreland, a negro, in peonage. Marion Smith said he would appeal from the sentence.

ARSON TRIAL POSTPONED ON MOTION OF COUNSEL

Case Against Warren Brothers and William Barge Goes Over to Thursday

Trial of J. E. Warren and S. D. Warren and William Barge, colored, on charges of arson, set for Monday morning in the criminal division of the superior court before Judge Hill, was postponed until Thursday morning on motion of Congressman William Schley, Ward, Attorney for the Warren brothers.

The Warrens were arrested several months ago following investigation of the fire at the Hotel Richmond, which destroyed the property of Congressman William Schley, Ward, Attorney for the Warren brothers.

The prosecution is based on an alleged confession of the negro, Barge, that the Warrens had instructed him to use gasoline and other combustibles on the hotel and to have one Saturday evening Barge is said to have told detectives he accidentally dropped a lighted match on the hotel.

PLAIN CLOTHES MEN TO GO ON BURGLAR'S TRAILS

Sergeant Bullard to Head the Squad of Picked Men in This Work

In an effort to put a stop to the operations of sneak thieves, pickpockets, and burglars, Police Chief Bullard has organized a squad of specially selected men to go on plain clothes with instructions to go after the particular class of criminals.

Sergeant Bullard is considered one of the best detectives in the Atlanta police department. It was he, with Detective Shaw, who ran to earth a gang of mooners and placed them behind the bars, and he has done other notable work. Some time ago he was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

Chief Bullard, a detail of picked men, will be able to make the business of sneak thieves, pickpockets, high way robbers and burglars so extremely difficult that the criminals engaged in these pursuits will abandon them and move to other places.

A. D. LITTLE ADDRESSES ATLANTA BUSINESS MEN

Chemical Engineer Discusses South's Loss by Waste in Industrial Operations

An astounding statement of the south's loss due to waste in industrial operations, to neglect of natural resources and to exportation of raw products instead of manufacturing these products in the south, was given to a gathering of prominent Atlanta business men at a luncheon at the chamber of commerce Monday by Arthur D. Little, the famous chemical engineer of Boston and president of the American Chemical society, who is here as the guest of the Georgia branch of the society and in whose honor the chamber gave the luncheon.

Little said waste alone from southern mills is sufficient if conserved and manufactured to make the south the richest producing section of the country, Mr. Little declared. And this waste is being lost to the south.

The address was one of the most interesting and valuable ever delivered to Atlanta business men, and as a result of the luncheon a number of the members of the chamber of commerce are already along lines which Mr. Little suggested.

Already the Brunswick, Ga., chamber of commerce has invited him to that city to show Brunswick business men and capitalists the opportunities of manufacturing waste from sawmills into paper.

Mr. Little arrived Sunday, was met and entertained by members of the Georgia section of the society, was given the luncheon at the chamber Monday, and will, with Mrs. Little, be the guest at an informal reception at the University club at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

LITTLE'S ADDRESS.

The subject of Mr. Little's address at the chamber was "The Industrial and Commercial Opportunities of the South."

Summing up the development of the south, Mr. Little said the aggregate of the country's resources represents an achievement and a heritage of which any people will be proud. But the country's resources are filled with a waste which should be taken measure of its successes but of its failures. What are the failures to be charged against the south?

THE SOUTH'S WASTE.

First of all was the failure to utilize its agricultural possibilities, as shown in the general low yields of cotton, corn and other staple crops, and the failure of many states to raise within their own borders the agricultural products they require.

In characterizing southern lumbering as one of the most wasteful operations conducted on the whole broad face of the earth, Mr. Little said the waste of lumber is estimated at $20,000,000 a year, less than $2,000,000,000, which is insignificantly utilized as raw material should yield ten times the profit derived from lumbering.

For every ton of oak mixed hardwood is wasted. Two-thirds of the waste of gum in the pinehouse is lost alone. Cotton seed is lost as $10,000,000,000 cubic feet a year. In the Florida pebble field the tonnage of phosphate rock wasted is two or three times the total tonnage saved. Less than 1 per cent of the zinc in the mines ever reaches the form of spelter.

Another fundamental difficulty which confronts the south is found in its tendency to ship crude raw material, where it should add labor values and sell at higher prices. A ton of iron ore shipped as ore returns only $2, and provides less than one day's work for a man. If shipped as stove it returns $40 and is worth for ten days' work for ten men.

IMPROVED FARM LIFE.

Perhaps the first of the problems confronting the south is the organization of rural life to make it richer, more gratifying, more profitable, and cleaner. It is bound up with the problem of the reorganization of southern agriculture. The south has really not begun to farm.

Foremost among the industrial problems of the south would seem to be the suppression of wastes, the vasty great detriment of labor values at its products and the keeping at home of money now needlessly spent elsewhere. The industrial wastes which are immediately utilized to the enormous profit of the south, no industry is comparable to the lumbering of yellow pine. Two-thirds of the tree is at present wasted, either as forest litter or as mill waste.

Cotton seed oil is shipped to Chicago to be chemically treated and converted into lard substitute. Bauxite is sold for $1 a ton to be subjected elsewhere to the purifying treatment which raises its value to $10 a ton.

No locality in the United States and perhaps none in the world presents such advantages for the establishment of the great basic chemical industries as Louisiana and Texas. Sulphur, gas, oil, rosin, turpentine and wood wastes are available.

Mr. Little referred to numerous other industrial possibilities and concluded by pointing out that great opportunities do not create great industries, but that these require personal initiatives.

Now only thirty years old, Mrs. Agnes Almond Maynard long even younger than this, blond and blue-eyed, appeared on the stand and testified that she was married to her husband, Garland H. Maynard, had married her September 12, 1912, when she was thirteen. She said he gave her the marriage license at twenty-two, and here as witness.

A Justice of the peace married them, she said. After a month of married life, she said, during which time her husband drank to excess and tried to take over her small earnings from working in a department store to pay his own board and laundry bills, she went back to her parents, she said.

There ought to be a law preventing such marriages as this, said Judge Ellis to the jury. "This little lady is even now hardly more than a child, and she was married two years ago. You note that, she testified that, false ages were given to obtain the marriage certificate. The law ought to require both parties to appear in person when asking for the certificate."

Mrs. Maynard was granted a complete divorce and had her maiden name of Agnes Almond restored. Philip Wetzel represented her.

Fifty women seeking divorces, all in the superior court, were granted divorces when the cases were called Monday morning.

"An April Shower"

Of Hand-Embroidered Lingerie

It is to be expected that we should have here this month showers for the May flowers and showers for the spring brides—but this, a shower of hand-embroidered lingerie in which the prices are often as low as you would find machine embroidered undermuslins! Indeed, here is affair that until now has never been on the calendar of any Atlanta store nor within the range of hope of Atlanta women.

But we are striving, striving, striving here, always to do a bigger and better thing. And we have, in this sale!

For where is the woman who does not "love" hand-embroidered undermuslins? Who does not know that such hand work has, until now, placed such undermuslins in the realm of luxuries?

Now it is different!

That we should hold this sale right now when we are practically cut off from the country that has always supplied us with hand-embroidered lingerie, is a striking example of American ingenuity; for these garments (with the exception of a few pieces from our own stocks) were hand embroidered (no, they are not hand sewed), in New England convents—but that is another story.

See these dainty, exquisite pieces—as lovely as ever the most womanly woman could wish, sheer, fine fabrics embroidered with the precision of seemingly infinite care. Then note their prices. When have you ever seen such work priced as now? Think of hand-embroidered gowns at $1.00.

Nor are there but a few pieces—but great masses, selections that will permit the spring brides to make up complete sets.

Gowns (Hand Embroidered) at $1, $1.49, $1.98, $2.25, $2.98, $3.50, $4.98

At $1.49 six designs, sprays, picot edges, scalloped and colored embroidery.

At $1.98 three styles, satin finished, sprays, picot edges.

At $2.25 hand scalloped and eyelet embroidered.

At $2.98 six styles, high and low back—honey comb and punch work.

At $3.50, even the sleeves are hand embroidered.

At $4.98, elaborately embroidered, were the seams hand done the price would be nearly double.

Petticoats at $1.98, $2.98, $3.50 and $3.95

At $1.98 hand scalloped and decorated with sprays—only a small handful of these!

At $2.98 six styles, eyelet and satin finish embroidery.

At $3.50 two styles, elaborately worked.

At $3.95 two styles—and they are the new widths, flare skirts.

Teddy Bears $1.00, $1.25, $1.45 and $2.98

Five styles at $1.00; three at $1.25; five at $1.45; three at $2.98; and you will note that they are made in full sizes, no skimping—the daintiest laces, scalloping and sprays.

Drawers $1.50, $1.75 and $1.98

Scalloped edges and neat little floral designs.

Corset Covers $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Simple designs and rather elaborate designs—no every size in every style, but every size included.

Special Values in Crepe de Chine and Nainsook Underwear

We have planned that the whole undermuslin section shall respond with unusual values for Tuesday's event. A shower of hand-embroidered lingerie, and another of crepe de chine, and another of lace and Swiss embroidery trimmed garments.

Of Crepe de Chine

Gowns at $3.39, $3.69 and $4.59. Pink and white crepe de chine, tailored styles and very lace styles. Garments that plainly show their greater worth.

Teddy Bears at $2.45 and $2.98. Trimmed top and bottom, three styles, only in the Empire effect is particularly smart.

Petticoats $2.98 and $3.50. Deep flounces of lace insertions and edges.

Corset Covers 89c, 98c, $1.45 and $1.98. A host of styles, V necks, lace trimmed front and back; some with sleeves.

Combinations at $2.89. Corset Covers and Drawers, as dainty as can be, trimmed with deep lace edges.

Of Nainsook

Gowns at $1.98, usually $2.50. Trimmed with Val laces and aero cloth medallions—most effectively—other splendid values at $2.25 to $5.00.

Teddy Bears at 98c to $2.98. A fine variety at each price, finished with laces and sheer Swiss embroideries.

Petticoats 98c to $5.00. Full flounced, many with fitted tops and others with draw strings. We have gathered daintier, finer garments than ever before at the same prices.

Corset Covers 50c to $2.98. Full fronts, many with peplums; fitted bands, draw strings. Innumerable styles.

Drawers 50c to $2.98. Embroideries and laces are used in new ways. Prettier than we can recall having at these prices.

Bridal Sets

We have a number of three and five piece bridal sets priced remarkably low at $7.95 to $20.00. Trimmings of German and English Val laces, Swiss aero cloth medallions.

PARENT-TEACHERS OPPOSE LONG SCHOOL SESSIONS

North Avenue Association Asks School Board to Make Change

Stating that careful study and investigation has shown that manual training, domestic science and other arts can be taught in our schools without changing the present hours, the Parent-Teachers' association of the North Avenue school Friday adopted a resolution announcing that the association is opposed to long, but capable, and requesting the board of education not to change the present hours at the North Avenue school.

This resolution was passed following an address by Mrs. Max Greenfield, of Columbus, Birmingham and Nashville taught manual training, domestic science and kindred subjects without prolonging their hours.

"With Birmingham having fewer schools, more pupils and less money per pupil than Atlanta, they provided for manual training, household arts, kindergarten, vocational schools and kindred subjects, without extending to the first three grades, and are initiating vocational training and guidance," said Mrs. Greenfield. "For their hours of attendance are from 8:45 in the morning to 2 o'clock in the afternoon."

NEW PARCEL POST PLAN OPPOSED BY ATLANTIAN

Atlanta business concerns for the most part do not favor the postoffice department's plan of collecting postage on parcel-post matter on delivery of the parcels.

In order to get a line on sentiment along this line, the department at Washington instructed Postmaster Jones to write business men. He sent letters to seventy-five concerns here. None of the replies seemed to be enthusiastic about the idea, while most of them opposed it outright. The result of these inquiries will be communicated to the department by Postmaster Jones.

"The bankers are all right," says the confirmed optimist, "and we like them. But they do need to be made to realize that their business is not to go ahead and do our regular business."

"The bankers are all right," says the habit of caution retailers.
